Blazing New Trails: Kansas Green Schools on the Move!

Join us for this year's Kansas Green Schools Conference! The one-day conference features keynote speaker Dr. Herb Broda, who will talk about exciting, low- to no-cost ways to move your classroom outdoors. We will also have presentations by Kansas students and teachers on their green school projects and curriculum. "A Taste of EE," which highlights environmental education activities to use in the classroom, is back this year! Concurrent sessions will include several school gardens presentations and examples of environmental projects in Kansas schools. Dr. Broda and Goddard High School teachers will lead outdoor activities to take back to your classroom to end the day.

- When: Friday, July 29, 2011 7:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
(Pre-Conference Workshop is full)
- Where: Goddard High School, Goddard, Kansas
- Who: Teachers, administrators, parents, and all educators working with children pre-K through 12th grade
- Cost: $15 for early registration prior to 15 July, $20 after that date.

KACEE and the Kansas Green Schools Program would like to thank the OWLS Program of Kansas Department of Wildlife, Parks and Tourism, Kansas Department of Health and Environment, Kansas Department of Agriculture, Goddard High School, Westar Energy Powerpedia and Energy Innovators, Inc for helping sponsor the conference.

Dr. Herb Broda is a professor of education at Ashland University in Ohio. He teaches both graduate and undergraduate courses in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction. His areas of concentration are middle school education, outdoor/experiential education, environmental education, curriculum development, and instructional design. Herb is a past-president of the Environmental Education Council of Ohio, the state-wide professional organization for persons working in the areas of outdoor/environmental education. He is the author of Schoolyard-Enhanced Learning: Using the Outdoors as an Instructional Tool (2007) and Moving the Classroom Outdoors: Schoolyard-Enhanced Learning in Action (May, 2011) both published by Stenhouse, Portland, Maine. His favorite pastime is spending time outdoors with his family, including two grandchildren.

You will receive a registration confirmation via email approximately one week before the conference.
